PROFILE

I make things. Concept, copy, art direction, strategy, and sometimes the whole thing from scratch. I've worked in ad agencies, creative studios and tech startups, collaborated with artists, researchers and academics, and written and art directed for brands like Nike, DAZN and Honda. I make my own work too. Lately that means creative direction, consulting, generative art, identity design, and whatever else I can't stop thinking about. I'm interested in the space where ideas, art, design and technology overlap.
